It is a type of rhythmic thumping, pulsing, throbbing, or whooshing only you can hear that is often in time with the heartbeat. Most people with pulsatile tinnitus hear the sound in one ear, though some hear it in both. The sound is the result of turbulent flow in blood vessels in the neck or head.

Tinnitus (Ringing in the Ears) Causes and Definition

Popping noises may sound like they are coming from walls when the sounds are actually traveling down the air ducts throughout the house. The popping can sound rather loud as warm air expands or cool air shrinks the metal ductwork, causing them to pop. You can place rubber pads thing you should do is make sure the hard drive is the actual source of the noise and not a different hardware component. See the section near the bottom called Other Noises a Computer Can Make for more on that.

What to Do When Your Hard Drive Is Making Noise

Photon noise itself does not get amplified,
